

The Dept. of Special Education, Language and Literacy
Teacher of the Blind/Visually Impaired Program
presents

TOOLS for TEACHERS: ACCESSIBILITY in the SCIENCE LAB for BLIND STUDENTS

featuring

CARY SUPALO

Blind Chemist & Creator of Accessible Lab Tools

Wed., November 12, 2008

3:30 - 4:50 pm

Forcina Hall, Room 348

\ Admission is free * Open to all * Refreshments will be served **

ABOUT THE PRESENTER: TCNJ is pleased to offer this session with blind chemist and accessibility pioneer Cary Supalo, PhD candidate in Chemistry Education at Penn State and member and disability specialist for the American Chemical Society and Alpha Chi Sigma chemistry fraternity. Mr. Supalo's accessibility solutions promote the contributions of people with disabilities in STEM careers.

Please join Dr. Jerry Petroff, Dr. Amy Dell, and others in the TCNJ community for this exciting and unique learning opportunity.

For further information, contact Carol Castellano at X 3180 or bvi@tcnj.edu.